2018 was a record-setting year for U.S. dairy exports

Where Are U.S. Dairy Exports Going?
- TOP 5 MARKETS
  - MEXICO: $1,398m, +7%
  - CHINA: $500m, -13%
  - SE ASIA: $771m, +12%
  - CANADA: $639m, +0%
  - S. KOREA: $292m, +4%

U.S. dairy exports to Southeast Asia have increased by over $100 million in 2 years. That's a lot of dairy products!

How Much U.S. Dairy Is Exported to Southeast Asia?
- In fact, 441,000 MT of U.S. dairy products were shipped to the region in 2018, an all-time record.

What Types of U.S. Dairy Products Are Going to Southeast Asia?
- Southeast Asia is a leading destination for U.S. dairy ingredient exports and a rising destination for U.S. cheese.
- The equivalent of about one day's production of U.S. milk per month goes to Southeast Asia.
- And U.S. cheese exports have increased 15% in 2018 over 2017, attaining an all-time record.
Eager to learn more about U.S. Dairy business and innovation opportunities in Southeast Asia?

Please visit our regional microsite portal at ThinkUSAdairy.org/SEAsia or contact USDEC Southeast Asia at info@dairyconnect.biz.

For further information about U.S. dairy suppliers, access the U.S. Dairy Supplier Directory at ThinkUSAdairy.org.